25X1A5a1

d. 15-foot Baseball Parachutes - (new item)

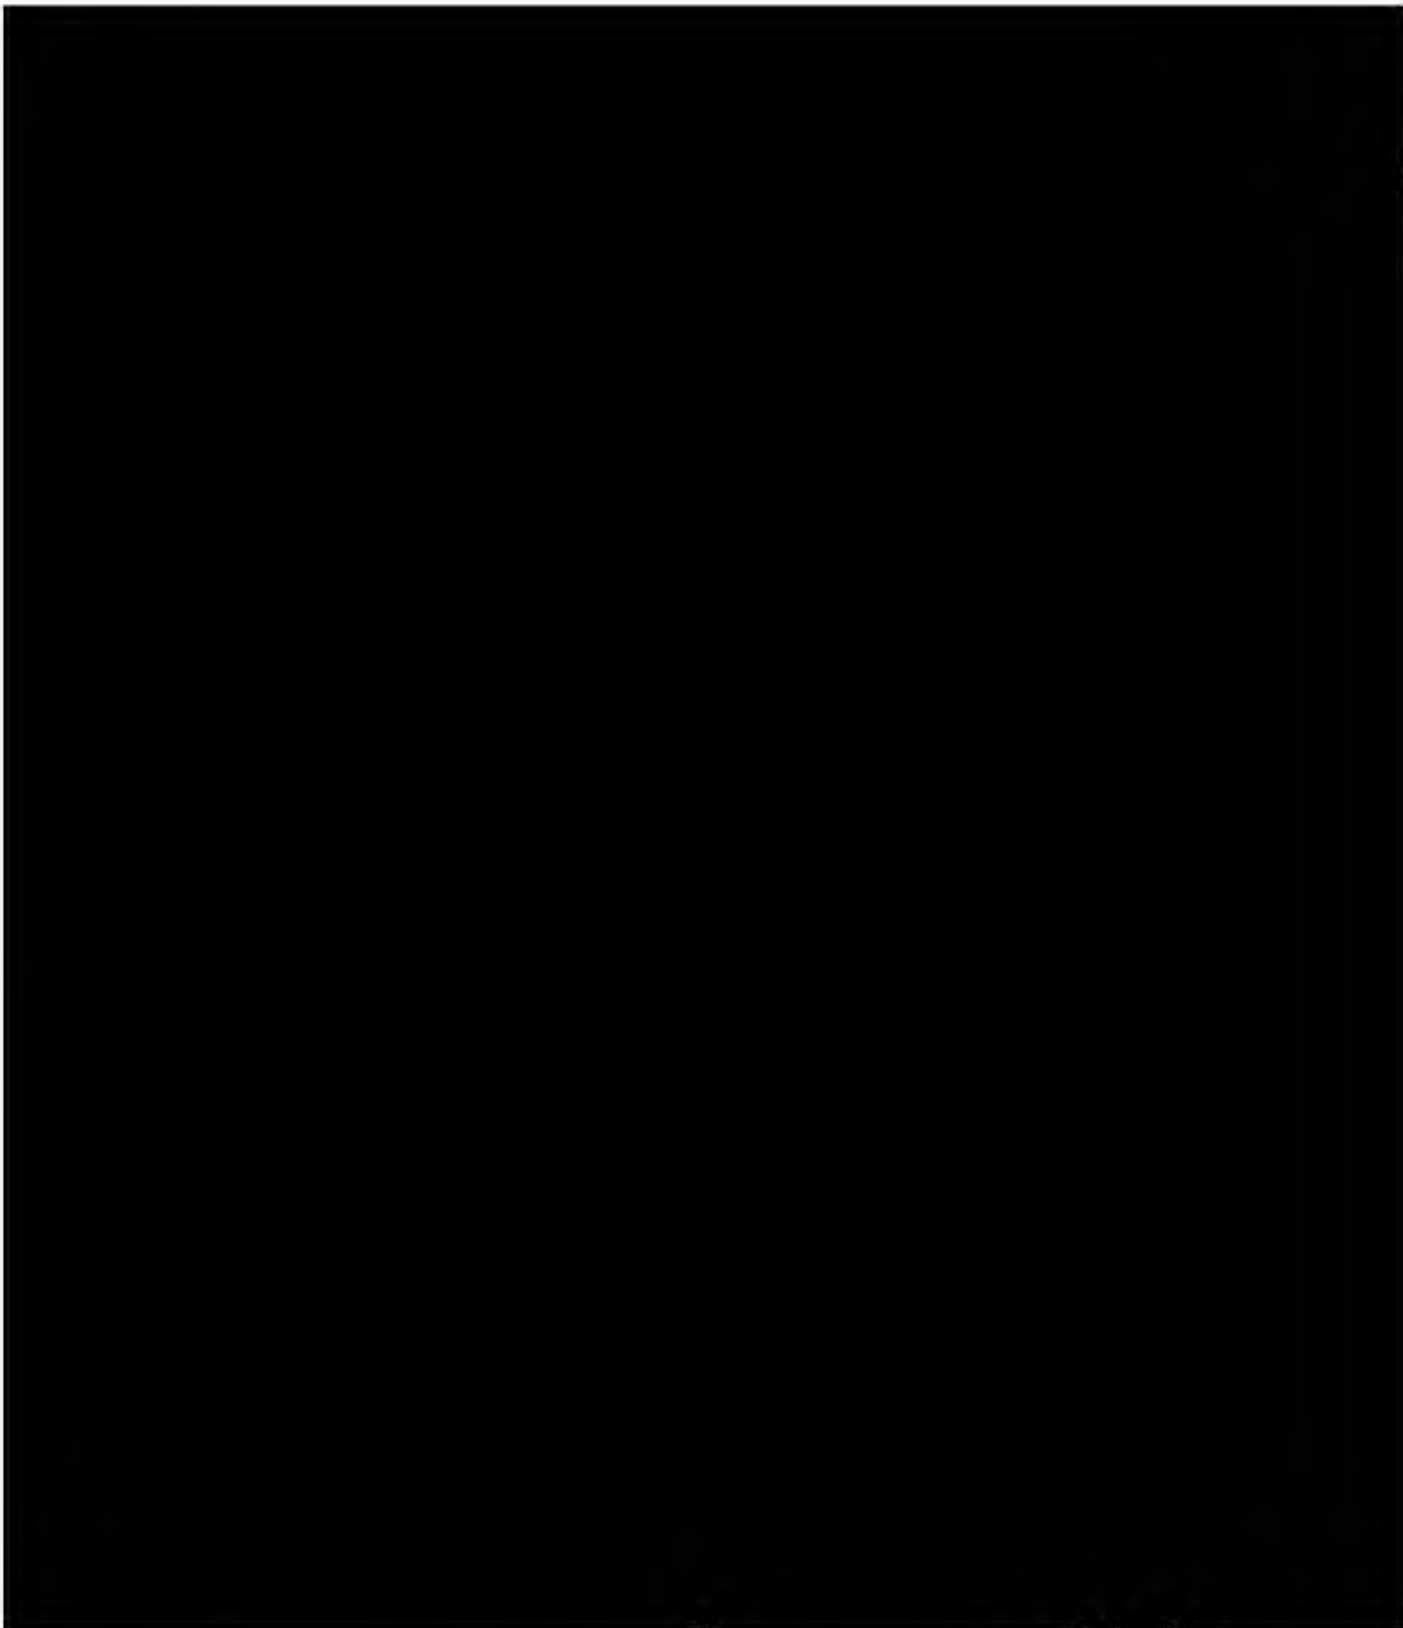

25X1A6a

A serviceability test was run at Quantico on 27 February of a sampling of such chutes now stored in the . Some of the chutes failed to open. This appeared to be a deficiency in the TSS design of the container. A corrective measure was worked out on the spot whereby the parachute opening can be facilitated by slitting one side of the container a certain distance. Further tests will be run before a corrective procedure is finally established. We now have approximately 4,000 of these chutes in storage at the depot, out of a total of approximately 6,000 under the contract.
